Response

- Answer a question
- Filling in a blank
- Labelling
- Solving a problem
- Discussing

Quiz

1. Learners learn better if the response they emit is loud or written down – an overt response
2. Learners learn better if the response they emit is in their heads – a silent or covert response
3. Learners learn better if they respond. There is no significance difference between overt or covert responding.

Response

- Research shows that active responding in the critical ingredient
- Response must be meaningful, not empty responding – what maintains learner’s attention for a while but does little to clarify meaning or assist attention

Rewards

- Intrinsic
- Extrinsic
